

EMP 400W: Environmental Management

This course focuses on case studies of the development and management of policies for environmental protection. These case studies allow a detailed examination of the practical challenges facing environmental managers and leaders today, and an examination of the possibilities for new approaches to environmental management and policy in the future.

This course satisfies the advanced writing skills course requirement.

Units: 3

Prerequisites:

WRIT 101

Program: Environmental Management and Policy