

INTS 262/ECON 262: China's Economic Development and Economic Reform

This course provides a survey of China's economic development under the centrally planned socialist system since 1949, and the on-going economic reform since 1978. China's role in regional economic growth and its economic relationship with the world economy are also be addressed.

Units: 3

Program: EconomicsAsia International Economics, Trade and Development